- Organise a carton for the items you're moving yourself (such as valuables and medication) aren't mixed up with items the removalists are responsible for.
- If you're doing all the packing yourself, get moving packing materials (such as boxes, paper and tape), and label them clearly.
- Disassemble any large items you won't be using before the move, such as spare beds and cots.
- Arrange for your existing home to be thoroughly cleaned once you've moved out.
- Arrange for your new home to be cleaned prior to moving in.
- Do a final walk through to make sure everything is clean and you haven't left anything behind.
